•All results should auto-import into the patient’s medical record. To verify which results posted successfully, go to “Activities”->“Lab Work”->“Lab Results”->“Lab Results Log” to see a list of any posted and orphaned results.

The screenshot shows the 'Lab Results Log' window with a table of lab results. The 'Status' column is circled in red, highlighting 'Posted' and 'Orphan' statuses. The table has columns for Patient Name, Owner Name, Ord Nbr, Template, Lab ID, Req ID, Seq, Status, and Date Ordered.

•Some orphans might occur; those can be dealt with exactly as they would for an IDEXX orphaned lab result. By submitting all ANTECH orders with a barcoded requisition form LabREXX or ANTECH Online, this will cut down on the amount of orphans – since ANTECH lab staff will scan the barcode(s) – and this will ensure less data entry errors on the owner name and patient name fields.

If “Review results before posting” is checked for the lab module, the result goes to the beaker in Cornerstone as “Completed” until they change each result status to “Posted”. They will not go into the patient medical history until that is done. This stops all results for that lab and forces someone to review each one.

If “Review results before posting” is left unchecked, then the results will post directly to the patient medical history UNLESS they are an “Orphan” or a “Not Requested” lab result. The clinic would never see a “Completed” result in the lab results log if “Review results before posting” is unchecked for that lab module in Cornerstone.
